FROM THE

HEAD OF SCHOOL

This year, as we celebrate the 10th Year Anniversary of our School, it is, in many respects, a time of validation for the achievements and successes of AHI.

The School has grown from a small preschool into a thriving international school. We owe a debt of gratitude to the many parents, teachers, students, friends, and supporters who have contributed to the development of our School and made the year-on-year improvements of AHI possible.

Change for improvement is not an event, but a process with a focused vision. The School has always maintained its vision-one of providing a teaching and learning environment that emphasises the individual, well-rounded development of the learner. Over time, the curriculum has been shaped to meet the needs of our students and formed within the frameworks of our programmes of learning, especially the International Primary Curriculum, to ensure our students grow and progress academically, personally, and socially to become global citizens.

This Yearbook is a visual testimony to these endeavours and the life of our community. Often, moments that are important in our lives go unnoticed, their significance only granted meaning later. This is true for our students. As they engage in learning opportunities in the classroom, in activities, and during social encounters in the playground, they encounter new challenges from which they learn who they are as individuals.

The production of the Yearbook is very much a collaborative exercise. It involves students, teachers, and staff in a process of identifying, designing, and illustrating what is most important in the lives of students and capturing those moments that reflect our Values Journey and learning goals.

As everyone reflects on the past year, each person will have their own highlights, their own perspective on what being part of AHI means. The Yearbook attempts to capture some of these thoughts and communicate them visually. I recall the teachers performing on Teacher's Day, parents and students dancing on International Day, and the wonderful talents of our students on display during the Talent Show.

In reading this Yearbook, I hope you find some resonance with these values and our approach to teaching and learning. The Yearbook contains many pages of thoughtful compilation and is a wonderful record of the achievements of our school community.

And looking forward, the School moves onwards, buoyed by past successes and with the objective of progressing as a quality school. New initiatives bring new challenges and opportunities, yet the underlying philosophy remains that of fostering the individual ability of our students. I hope that this is evident in this Yearbook and in the many yearbooks to come.

SCHOOL FOUNDER & MENTOR

As we close another joyful school year, I want to take this opportunity to thank my children, staff, and families, and to reflect on the laughter, growth, and milestones we have shared together.

This year was extra special as we celebrated the 10th anniversary of our preschool—a whole decade of learning through play, building friendships, and creating a nurturing space for our young children to thrive.

I feel completely blessed at AHI to be surrounded by such a strong sense of community. This spirit is continuously strengthened by the ongoing support of our parents and the commitment and inspiration of our incredible team.

I consistently witness the love for learning among my teachers and staff. Every day, I see this love and care continuing to grow with our children.

In so many ways, the children are our treasures at Anne Hill International School. I thank you all with deep gratitude and warmth.

YAGI TYPHOON DONATION DRIVE

In September 2024, the Anne Hill International School community came together to support those affected by Typhoon Yagi in Lao Cai Province. Through a school-wide donation drive, AHL received generous contributions to aid recovery efforts.

More than material support, our students and their families also shared caring messages through handwritten letters, drawings, and words of encouragement, which offered comfort and hope to those in need. These meaningful acts reflected the compassion and community spirit we are proud to nurture at AHL.

TOY BANK CHARITY CAMPAIGN

This year's Toy Bank Charity Campaign brought the AHL community together in a meaningful act of giving. Students, families, and staff donated gently loved items - 11 boxes of toys and 10 bags of soft toys and stuffed animals - for the children at St. Joseph's Charity School, spreading happiness through every gift. We are proud of what we achieved together and of the compassion, care, and generosity shown by our AHL community.

FIELD TRIP

Field trips are a fun and important part of learning at AHI Preschool. This year, our little learners enjoyed visits to exciting places like Snow Town, Landmark Picnic, Happy Petting Farm, Kimoza, and more. Each outing gave the children a chance to explore new environments, discover the world around them, and create joyful memories with their friends. These experiences spark curiosity and support their learning in playful, engaging ways.

"To My Teacher" Online Video Contest

To celebrate Vietnamese Teachers' Day this year, AHI joyfully launched the "To My Teacher" online video contest and received enthusiastic participation from our students across all year levels.

Through their entries, students expressed sincere gratitude and warm wishes to their beloved teachers. These touching messages came in many creative forms, from songs and drawings to poems and video letters, each one a meaningful tribute to the care and guidance they receive every day at AHI.

HANGUL DAY

To mark Hangul Day – South Korea's national holiday on 9 October, our preschoolers had the wonderful opportunity to celebrate the creation of the Korean alphabet alongside their Korean friends through a range of interesting and engaging hands-on activities. On this special day, the children learned about Korean symbols, language, and cultural traditions.

The highlight was when students from the Korean community acted as young ambassadors, sharing insights about the holiday with their classmates. Dressed in beautiful hanbok, they offered cookies and stickers to their friends, creating a joyful and inclusive atmosphere.

HAPPY Diwali

Following our celebration of Hangul Day, our Preschool continued to embrace cultural diversity with a joyful and colourful Diwali celebration. Known as the Festival of Lights, Diwali is a time to share warmth, happiness, and hope — and our students experienced all of this through engaging, hands-on, and festive activities.

The day was filled with colour, creativity, and joyful energy. Children arrived in vibrant traditional attire and took part in a lively fashion show and dance performances. A highlight of the celebration was a special storytelling session, where parents and students came together to share the meaning and rich traditions of Diwali. To mark the occasion, students also enjoyed making their own diyas and lanterns — bright, handmade symbols of light and positivity.

Sakura Hanabi

Spring was in full bloom as our preschoolers joyfully embraced the pure joy of Sakura Hanami! Dressed in colourful outfits, the children took part in a lovely fashion show and sang along to cheerful Japanese songs, bringing the spirit of a cherry blossom festival right to our vibrant campus. The celebration continued with karaoke fun and a cosy outdoor picnic, where students shared laughter, snacks, and stories under the “blossoming” trees. It was a day full of friendship, cultural discovery, and springtime happiness!

Meet The Teacher

Hi, I'm Bo. I'm from the Netherlands and have been living in Vietnam for 9 years. I've been working at AHI for 7 of those years. I teach using a play-based approach, where kids learn through hands-on experiences, movement, and exploration. I enjoy creating a space where children feel comfortable, curious, and free to be themselves. Watching them grow and connect with each other is one of the most rewarding parts of what I do.

My Class's Journey

The Blossoms Have Grown!

Wow—what a year it's been! During the 2024/2025 school year, we've truly seen the Blossoms flourish and bloom! Our little ones have grown so much, and honestly, our circle of friends has gotten even bigger too

It's been such a joy to watch the kids play, laugh, and build friendships—always so welcoming to new friends. Throughout the year, we've had a blast exploring our fun and engaging themes. One big highlight? Definitely the Ocean Treasures theme—so full of excitement and wonder! And of course, the Christmas concert brought everyone together for a truly special moment.

The children have also been really enjoying their time in the indoor gym—it's been so great watching them move, grow stronger, and build confidence in their physical abilities. They've loved diving into their Montessori lessons too, where they get to explore, discover, and learn at their own pace. Oh, and it's been amazing seeing how excited they get about learning different languages—it's like their curiosity just never stops!

We absolutely love celebrating international festivals from around the world as well—it's such a beautiful way to share, learn, and connect as a community. Keep growing little ones!

My Class's Journey

We had a wonderful year in N1A Jasmine! We all learned and grew together, discovering new things each day. We became more than just classmates; we became a family. We shared many fun activities together this year, such as imagining how we could "save the world" while singing the Superhero song in morning circle time! I know that all my little Jasmines will grow up to "save the world" because you are all capable of great things. I look forward to hearing about all the wonderful things you will accomplish- next year and beyond!

Ms. Hazel

Meet The Teacher

I'm Ms. Hazel, and I've been teaching at Anne Hill International School since 2022. This year, I had the joy of working alongside my dedicated Learning Teaching Assistants, Ms. Ha and Ms. Ngan. Together, we built a nurturing and empathetic environment in our N2A Daffodils class by upholding the vision, mission, and core values of AHI.

Our shared goal has always been clear, to guide each child toward holistic development and to inspire a lifelong love for learning. More importantly, we've worked to instill empathy in their hearts—towards people, cultures, and the world around them. Watching our little learners grow not just in knowledge, but in kindness and care, has been one of the most rewarding parts of our journey.

My Class's Journey

Emma The Empathy Bear

One of our most meaningful experiences this year was with Emma the Empathy Bear. Each child had the chance to bring Emma home, care for her, and share special moments with her. This helped the children learn how to be responsible, gentle, and thoughtful. With the loving support of our families, parents sent photos of Emma's adventures through email, helping us document these beautiful acts of care. Emma became a symbol of love, connection, and understanding, a true friend in our empathy journey.

Empathy Starts In Little Hearts

Empathy has been at the heart of our N2A Daffodils class this year. It guided our little ones to grow with love—their friends, the environment, and their families. Through shared laughter, gentle hands, and kind words, we witnessed how empathy built meaningful relationships and strong character. We are proud of each child's progress, no matter how big or small. Every act of kindness brought joy to our hearts. We are excited to see who they will become, knowing they are growing with empathy in their hearts.

My Class's Journey

K1A Sunflowers – A Year Full of Wonder and Growth! What an incredible year it has been in K1A, our cheerful Sunflowers class! Throughout the 2024-2025 school year, we explored a variety of exciting IEYC (International Early Years Curriculum) themes that sparked curiosity, creativity, and a love for learning. From discovering the world around us to learning about our amazing bodies, animals, and even space, each theme was a hands-on adventure filled with stories, experiments, music, and art.

Our learning was always brought to life through joyful play, group activities, and imagination. At the end of each theme, we celebrated our learning with fun and memorable party picnics. These special moments allowed our little learners to showcase what they had discovered and enjoy time together as a classroom family.

It has been a joy to watch every child grow in confidence, independence, and kindness. Their development over the year has been remarkable, and I am so proud of their accomplishments. One of the most special parts of our year was connecting with nature. We spent time observing the world around us and used natural materials to create beautiful, meaningful artwork. Through this, the children learned to appreciate the beauty in everyday things and express themselves creatively.

Another highlight was learning about each other's cultures. We celebrated our differences and shared special traditions, food, music, and stories from around the world. These experiences helped us build a strong, caring classroom community where everyone felt seen and valued.

As their teacher, I feel incredibly proud to witness their growth. From understanding simple instructions to responding with their own words, and from expressing themselves with smiles, gestures, and laughter, every little milestone tells a story of progress.

Greetings, my name is John Li, and I'm delighted guiding your child through the exciting world of Speech and Drama this year.

Through developmental skills such as body movement, voice projection and personal sharing, we build confidence, creativity, and connection together. ## Mr. John

My Class's Journey

This year in Speech & Drama, our students embarked on a journey of self-expression, creativity, and collaboration. Through engaging activities such as role-play, storytelling, and performance, children learned to articulate their thoughts with clarity and confidence. They explored a wide range of emotions and perspectives, developing empathy and emotional intelligence along the way.

Our classroom became a stage where imagination thrived—students invented characters, created scenarios, and brought stories to life. These experiences not only enhanced their communication skills but also nurtured their self-esteem and resilience. Working together in groups, they learned the value of teamwork, active listening, and mutual respect.

It has been a joy to witness each child's growth as they found their voice and embraced the joy of performance. Thank you to our supportive families for encouraging your children to shine and for being part of their creative journey!
